

Klondike Western Side - Powerline, Strip Mine, Donjo's, Donkey Kong Trails

- ① Just south of the shower house, on the point sticking out, there is a white sign at the corner which marks the beginning of the trail. Go across the sandy field to pick it up on the far side.
- ② Trail makes a sharp left at intersection with old road.
- ③ Start of Donjo's Trail at road intersection. You can bypass this trail by getting on the road and bearing left.
- ④ "The Spine" - narrow rockwork bridge/climb on steep terrain.
- ⑤ Intersects Strip Mine Loop just south of its start point. A rocky, technical trail.
- ⑥ Intersection with road. Turning right will take you back toward the beginning, left leads to steep, rocky downhill to Donkey Kong Loop.
- ⑦ At bottom of hill, make sharp right.
- ⑧ At top of climb is a 4 ft drop-off. If you haven't ridden here before, you might want to have a look at it first.
- ⑨ Steep sandstone formation. Drops about 30 feet.

The trails on this side of the park are all intermediate to advanced. Since they are mostly sand and rock, they dry out very quickly.

Powerline - 0.56 miles
Donjo's Trail - 0.14 miles
Strip Mine - 0.25 miles
Donkey Kong - 0.42 miles
